BELGO MOULES • FRITES • BIERES

WELCOME TO

BELGO MOULES • FRITES • BIERES

It has been said that Belgians believe that beer is the essence of life itself, and Belgo is certainly paradise for the curious beer drinker. In fact, we have one of the widest selection of beers in London, and every single one is served in its own unique glass.

The first Belgian beers were produced by 11th Century monks as a "healthy" alternative to drinking water. There are still Trappist beer brewing monasteries around today, and we are very proud to serve their beers here at Belgo.

Today, Belgian beers are renowned around the world for their quality, quiriness and variety. We'd like to think we can take some of the credit for introducing these wonderful beers to a very appreciative British public.
